

ASCD Canadian Education Network (ASCD-CEN), representing all ASCD provincial Affiliates and Connected Communities, proudly offers a webinar which will examine recent developments in assessment with prominent Canadian author Damian Cooper.

Assessment for Learning: Are we losing ground?

Date: Thursday, December 9, 2010

Time: 3:00–4:00 p.m. BC time

Join Damian Cooper and ASCD-CEN facilitators for a webinar that will tackle some of the thorniest questions in assessment today like:

- What do recent changes to provincial policies on assessment mean for students, teachers, and schools in Canada?
- What does recent media coverage of assessment practices reveal about popular support for assessment for learning?
- Should we deduct marks or award zeroes for handing in assignments late or plagiarizing in order to prepare students for the real world?
- Which are better-percentages or letter grades on report cards?

Registration is free and open to all members of ASCD and Canadian ASCD constituent groups. To participate click on Register Now.

Once you have registered you will receive an email reminder and the URL for the webinar. This webinar will be recorded for later access.
